

The Fry City Gazette

"All the news that's fit to fry" · Est. long, long ago

THURSDAY EDITION

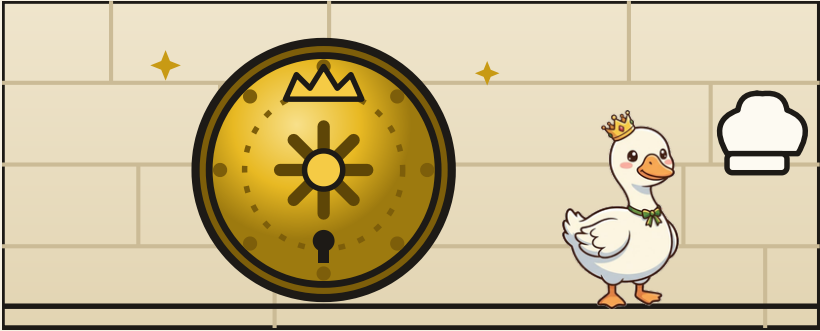

VOL. VII · NO. 14

WEATHER: SUNNY, CHANCE OF SPRINKLES

THE ROYAL VAULT

VAULT STAYS SHUT — ONLY THE CHEFS GET IN

By our Castle Correspondent, from Burger Street 34

The famous golden door, its keeper, and the hat that knows the code.

FRY CITY — The Royal Vault beneath Castle Food remained firmly shut this week, despite a record number of visitors whispering numbers at it. The kingdom confirms the door opens only for the chefs of the castle kitchen — and the chefs are not telling. The four digits, they say, are mathematical, not magical.

Inside, sources say, wait the castle's secret recipe cards, a scroll worth free fries, and the full royal cookbook — seventy-nine recipes, one PDF, yours to keep. The chef declined to give hints, then gave three hints, then declined again.

The vault's only permanent resident, a goose who wandered in during construction, was asked for comment.

"Honk." — The Goose, exclusively

The code belongs to the chefs. If one likes you, you may hear a whisper.

GIGGLE LANE

SNIPPET LOOPS THE LOOP OVER GIGGLE LANE 7

By our Silliness Reporter

Exclusive photograph of Tuesday's flight. He landed in a pizza box, as is tradition.

The blue dragon looped the loop above Giggle Lane on Tuesday, twice on Wednesday, and on every fifth giggle since.

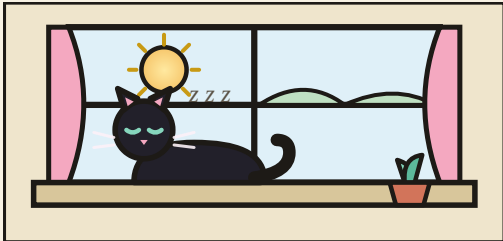

IN THIS EDITION

- Vault still shut (chefs unbothered)
- Snippet's air show
- Whiskers re-elected
- Coin Watch & Weather
- Letters, Classifieds & Puzzles, p.2

WHISKER WAY

WHISKERS RE-ELECTED BOSS OF THE WINDOW

By our Cat Cafe Insider

The boss: sleek, black, and unanimously re-elected.

The Cat Cafe's one and only cat — a sleek black gentleman — has been re-elected Boss of the Window by a unanimous vote (one vote, his own). The purr-o-meter hit a record this week as visitors queued for petting duty. Saucers of cream remain free for the winner. Cuddles remain free for everyone.

COIN WATCH

1 Royal Coin ≈ €1. Steady as a well-stacked burger. Every meal in Fry City: 14 coins. Dinner at two fine establishments: free. Analysts describe the economy as "delicious."

THE WEATHER

Today: sunny, with a chance of sprinkles.
Tonight: cosy, with patches of giggling.
Tomorrow: perfect fry-day weather.

FOOD REVIEW

WE TRIED THE KING'S COMBO SO YOU DON'T HAVE TO (YOU SHOULD, THOUGH)

By our Royal Food Critic

Nine coins buys the Double Knight, Drawbridge Fries, a Dragon's Breath shake and any dessert, and this reporter can confirm: it is fit for a king, a queen, and one very full critic. The fries arrive twice-fried and standing to attention. The shake is dark, smooth, and full of fire (the chocolate kind).

Verdict: ★★★★★ – would pledge allegiance again.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

"CAN DRAGONS REALLY FLY?"

Dear Editor – my brother says dragons can't fly. Snippet, if you are reading this, please do a flyby past our window. – A BELIEVER, age 7

THE EDITOR REPLIES: our aviation desk confirms Snippet sometimes flies around whenever he is excited, which is always. Tell your brother to giggle five times and look up.

Dear Editor – I typed a secret word and it rained confetti. Is this normal? – STICKY KEYBOARD, Giggle Lane

THE EDITOR REPLIES: perfectly normal. Try purring at the Cat Cafe's website too.

SNIPPET'S JOKE CORNER

"What's a dragon's favourite day? FRY-day!"

More jokes available at the Silly Old Restaurant's Fun Zone, free with every giggle.

CLASSIFIEDS

LOST: one ribbon. If found, do NOT show Whiskers.

FOUND: one confused goose. Already claimed by vault.

WANTED: taste testers for Dragon's Breath. Must like chocolate. Must not breathe actual fire.

FOR TRADE: 2 paw-print cookies for 1 good joke. Fair offers only.

NOTICE: tonight's Big Plate is FREE at the Silly Old Restaurant. It is free every night. We keep printing this. It keeps being true.

THE GREAT WORD HUNT

G	I	G	G	L	E	Q	F
C	R	O	W	N	A	B	R
X	P	U	R	R	C	D	I
K	L	M	N	O	P	Q	E
C	O	I	N	S	T	U	S
H	J	B	T	Y	W	A	M
S	N	I	P	P	E	T	D
E	L	V	X	O	Z	A	K

Find: GIGGLE · CROWN · PURR · COIN ·
FRIES · SNIPPET

TONIGHT IN FRY CITY

Castle Food open till 02:00 (the drawbridge is down). Silly Old Restaurant giggling 11am–9pm. The Cat Cafe purring 9am–6pm. The Gazette goes to bed at sunset, like Whiskers.

ADVERTISEMENTS

CASTLE FOOD

Fast food, fit for a king.
Burger Street 34 · ALWAYS OPEN 06:00–02:00
Dinner is FREE · castlefood.eu

SILLY OLD RESTAURANT

Come hungry, leave giggling!
Giggle Lane 7 · 11am–9pm
Free Big Plate every night · sorfood.eu

THE CAT CAFE

Come for a sip, stay for a purr.
Whisker Way 9 · 9am–6pm
Cuddles always free